Overview

This disclosure describes the fees that apply to Harborview Community Bank consumer deposit and credit card accounts, how overdrafts are handled and how to avoid fees. Fees are subject to change; the Bank will give at least 30 days' written notice before a fee increase takes effect. Ask any branch for a printed copy, or sign in to online banking to see the fees that apply to your accounts.

Monthly service fees

Table 1 lists the monthly service fee for each consumer deposit account and the ways to have it waived.

Table 1. Monthly service fees and how to waive them

Student Checking	$0	Not applicable; ages 16 to 24 with proof of enrollment	$25
Everyday Checking	$8	Average daily balance of $1,500, or $500 in direct deposits each month	$50
Premier Checking	$18	Combined balances of $10,000 across Harborview deposit and loan accounts	$100
Basic Savings	$4	Daily balance of $300 or more	$25
High-Yield Savings	$0	Not applicable	$500

Overdrafts

An overdraft happens when you do not have enough money in your checking account to cover a transaction and the Bank pays it anyway. The Bank decides whether to pay an overdraft; it is not obliged to. If the Bank pays an item that overdraws your account, the Overdraft Paid-Item Fee in Table 2 applies.

- No fee for small overdrafts. If your account is overdrawn by $5 or less at the end of the business day, no overdraft fee is charged.
- Daily limit. The Bank charges no more than 3 overdraft or returned-item fees in one business day.
- ATM and everyday debit card transactions. The Bank pays an overdraft on an ATM withdrawal or a one-time debit card purchase only if you have opted in. If you have not, the transaction is declined and no fee is charged.
- Overdraft protection transfer. You can link a Harborview savings account to your checking account. When a checking transaction would overdraw the account, the Bank moves the needed amount from savings and charges the transfer fee in Table 2 instead of the Overdraft Paid-Item Fee.

- Returned items. If the Bank declines to pay a check or electronic payment because of insufficient funds, the Returned Item Fee applies. The Bank does not charge a second fee if the same item is presented again.

Table 2. Overdraft and returned item fees

Fee	Amount	Notes
Overdraft Paid-Item Fee	$30 per item	No fee when overdrawn by $5 or less at end of day; at most 3 fees per business day
Returned Item Fee (insufficient funds)	$30 per item	At most 3 fees per business day, combined with Overdraft Paid-Item Fees
Overdraft protection transfer from savings	$10 per day	Charged once per business day that a transfer is made

Overdraft fees are reported on your monthly statement under the heading "Fees". Customers who are overdrawn on more than 3 occasions in a statement period receive a call from a Harborview banker to talk about options such as Student Checking, a linked savings account or alerts for low balances.

Credit card fees

Table 4. Harbor credit card fees and rates

Harbor Secured Card	$25	24.99% variable	Up to $32; up to $41 for a repeat late payment within six billing cycles	3% of the transaction	5% of the advance, $10 minimum

The Harbor Secured Card requires a refundable security deposit of $200 to $2,500, which becomes the credit limit. After twelve consecutive on-time payments the Bank reviews the account for conversion to the Harbor Rewards Card.

How to dispute a charge

If you see a card or debit transaction you did not authorize, or a charge that is wrong, call the number on your card or the Bank's Card Services line within 60 days of the statement that shows the charge. For debit card and other electronic transactions the Bank investigates within 10 business days and may credit your account provisionally while it finishes, which takes no more than 45 days. See the Complaint Handling Procedure for how the Bank tracks and resolves disputes.
